Competition Permitted.

(Courier-Journal April 17th.)
The propositions submitted by the Southern railroads to the National Commission, involves the points in dispute between the Eastern trunk lines and their Western connections.
The trunk-line managers are insisting on the most rigid interpretation of the law, and are seeking to enforce this interpretation on all the roads of the country regardless of the local interests involved, as well as of the widely varying circumstances and conditions. It has been suggested that the purpose of the Eastern managers is to make the law obnoxious, but cannot not search for hidden motives in this case; the plain truth is that the rigid enforcement of the law in its prohibition of competitive rates for high business exactly accords with the interest of railroads where passenger traffic is large and competition on local traffic is severe.
The Eastern lines have insisted that their Western and Southern connections rearrange their schedules in accordance with the Eastern view, and when these connections have refused to adopt the Eastern interpretation as authoritative and conclusive, the Eastern lines have in effect boycotted those of the West and South.

This is truly a serious complication.
The Southern roads applied to the Commission for relief, and for the time being it has been granted. That is, the railroads of the South have been authorized to continue in force the schedules prevailing April 1, until the Commission can investigate fully the points at issue.

This ruling is not final, though it is of importance. Its value lies chiefly in the fact that it shows the Commission to be composed of careful and cautious men, who are not to be hurried into mistakes. The latitude given them under the law is wide; the responsibility imposed is very grave. The power conferred is, as the Courier-Journal has heretofore declared, greater than should be given to any commission, however constituted. But the character of the Commission has somewhat reassured the public, and this first ruling proves that the Commissioners appreciate the serious nature of their duties, and that they will aim to make the law conform as far as possible to the business necessities of each section of the country. In other words, instead of accepting the view suggested by the trunk-line managers, and which in two weeks has done much to arouse wide-spread opposition to the law, they propose to see for themselves how the law can be applied without subjecting any section to particular hardships, or bringing the law into disfavor.

This ruling does not remove the fundamental objections to the Commission. The act is a blow at competition; it is a blind attempt to chain the power of great economic laws. It is an application to national commerce of the principles of restriction which are embodied in the tariff, and we believe that in time the people themselves will recognize these facts.
Nevertheless, the ruling of the Commission in the first case presented shows the law to be a fair chance; that all business interests are to have a candid hearing, and that no evils are to be precipitated on the country by ill-considered action. For a time at least competition by railroads with water routes in the South is not forbidden.

Catarrah Cured.
Dawson, Ga., Dec. 7, 1886.—For fully nine years I had catarrh. For five years I had it in the worst form, how obvious that is I need not recount. I was under treatment of one of the most celebrated eye, ear, and throat physicians in the United States, but he was unable to do me any good. In despair, I resorted to numerous patent medicines that I saw advertised, but of no avail. Finally, about six months ago I began to take S. S. S. in sheer desperation, but with little hope and no faith in it.
But to-day I am comparatively well, indeed, I have been so benefited by the S. S. S. that, although skeptical of its merit, I am compelled by the benefit I have derived from it, to testify to its unquestioned curative powers in catarrh cases. The best compliment I can pay it is that I have recently recommended it to a number of my warmest personal friends.
Mrs. E. C. Kendrick.

An old negro woman believed to be 128 years old died at Falls Church, Va., last week. Her name was Minnie Bond.

Louisville will have another exposition this fall and an effort will be made to have President Cleveland and wife attend the opening.

Mr. Cicero T. Sutton, late of the Breckenridge News, has accepted a permanent position on the staff of the Owensboro Daily Messenger.

Ruddy Gore, the latest opera by Gilbert and Sullivan, has made a failure in New York and the company playing it has gone to pieces for lack of patronage.

Mrs. Huddy Day, of Wolfe county, has just presented her husband with triplets which causes the Louisville Republican to remark that there is no telling what a Day may bring forth.

Two murderers left by the hemp route Friday. At Nashville Ben Brown paid the penalty of a murder committed last November and at St. Louis Daniel Jewell was hanged for killing his wife.

R. Bird, of Whitley county, is a Republican candidate for the State Senate. As Whitley is a Republican county Mr. Bird will probably be early enough to catch the worm he is after, unless he should get run over by the Democratic milk-wagon.

A section of eastern Ohio was desolated by a terrific cyclone Friday afternoon, which destroyed a million dollars worth of property and killed three people. The track of the storm extended from St. Clairsville to Wheeling, a distance of ten miles.

If Louisville had a few Huntingtons, or more Bennett Youngs, the city might be awakened from her lethargy and assume her proper rank in the commercial column. We need an infusion of new life, but we can not get it until we have a few more first-class funerals.—Louisville Post.

The Southern Bivouac, with its May number, will cease to exist, having been bought by the Century Company, of New York. The Bivouac was published in Louisville by B. F. Avery & Son, and edited by R. W. Knott and B. W. Duke. The May number completes the second volume of the magazine.

Messrs. Nanz & Neuner, the Louisville florists, have an advertisement in this issue of the KENTUCKIAN. The season for beautifying your premises with flower beds has arrived and if you want plants or seeds that are strictly first class and thoroughly satisfactory in all respects, you should send your orders at once to these long established and reliable dealers.

If personal pulchritude is to be made an issue in the race for Lieutenant Governor, Jim Bryan will win hands down.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

As Col. Bryan's pulchritude is backed by ability and unwavering devotion to Democratic principles, he ought to be doubly a winner.—Covington Commonwealth.

Every county in the State should see to it that no drunkard is elected to the Legislature this year. We had too many of this sort in the last Legislature for the good or the credit of the State. Give the drunkards the cold shoulder, be they Democrats or Republicans. We want sober, intelligent, progressive men only and this is the only kind voters should support.—Muhlenberg Republican.

On July 3, the twenty-fourth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg, the survivors of Pickett's Division, which took such a conspicuous part in that conflict, will erect a monument to mark the point where they made the most gallant charge of any Confederate command during the war. This monument is to be of Virginia granite, and similar in shape, but much larger, than the base upon which the statue of Stonewall Jackson in the Capitol Square here rests. It is to be erected near Siegler's Grove Cemetery Ridge, near Taneysville road, and is intended to indicate the point where this division pierced the Federal line. The base of the monument will bear the following inscription: "They did all that men could do.—Gen. Lee."

The Republicans have already put out candidates for the Legislature in several counties and will doubtless make a strong effort to capture an increased number of seats in the next General Assembly. Charles Blandford, in Breckenridge; Thos. Harden, in Owen, and J. M. Wilson, in Grant, are among those who will try to be elected in Democratic counties. It is important that the Democrats nominate good and strong men in all the counties and most especially in close and doubtful ones, who will poll the full party strength. Such blunders as those that resulted in the election of Republicans from the strong Democratic counties of Logan, Hopkins and Trigg two years ago, should not be allowed to occur again and we do not believe they will be in any counties that have seen the result of disensions like those named above. The chances are that the Republican contingent of about 20 in the last Legislature will be cut down considerably when the next Legislature is elected.

KENTUCKY KNOWLEDGE.

Mr. Frank M. Fonda, late Asst. Supt. of the St. Louis division of the L. & N. Railroad, which position he resigned to become Gen. Supt. of the Central Georgia Railroad, was killed at Savannah, Ga., Sunday by J. J. Abrams, who playfully pointed a rifle at him while they were taking a pleasure trip on a tug and shooting alligators on the Savannah river. Mr. Fonda was in his 36th year and was one of the most promising young railroad men of the south. He left Nashville for Savannah only two weeks before.

We publish in this issue the details of a conspiracy to defeat Gen. Buckner for Governor. In justice to Capt. Sam. M. Gaines, we will state that he denies emphatically ever having been to Newport or elsewhere to see Berry in regard to the matter; and he further states that there is no antagonism between Capt. Hines, who is his choice for Governor, and Gen. Buckner; as the article copied elsewhere charges. We learn this from a friend of Capt. Gaines, who talked with him about the matter a day or two ago.

Alexander R. Lawton, of Georgia, was appointed Minister to Austria Saturday.

GENERAL NEWS.

Trouble is brewing on the Kiowa Indian reservation.

The village of Alsworth, Io., has been nearly destroyed by fire.

'WALK-IN-THE-LIGHT.'

A Remarkable Choctaw Chieftain.

In a very little while now our people will have a chance to see one of the most noted Indian Chiefs of America. This distinguished personage is none other than "Walk-in-the-Light," the famous Choctaw Chieftain who held at bay, with only fifty braves under his command, a whole regiment of U. S. Regulars in a most gallant and heroic fight. He has now passed for more than two weeks, and then would have made them surrender but for the timely arrival of reinforcements. But (gladly) no one reads the Chieftain's greatest (?) achievement have been the midnight marauding attacks made on defenseless men, women and children. "Walk-in-the-Light" has been measured by his gory deeds. He is now a reconstructed redman, and wonderful indeed is the change brought by the civilizing influence of religion. "Walk-in-the-Light" is now a professed Christian, and is as modest and unobtrusive a person as can well be found.

He leads the Indian tribes who will appear with their war, papooses, medicine men, councilors, wigwags, ponies, etc., with that wonderful world, John B. Davis and E. D. Colvin's New Colossal unification of the great shows which will exhibit at Hopkinsville on Friday, April 22, in all its superlative splendor and overwhelming greatness. "Walk-in-the-Light" is the ruling spirit of the Indians in the Wild West department of the great Shows, and when Capt. Elmer E. Stubbs (the Restless Spirit of the Plains) will daily have ended his remarkable shooting with the revolver, rifle and bow. Walk-in-the-Light will transpire the center of bulletseyes and other things, and will perform some of the most marvelous bow and arrow shooting ever beheld. In connection with the great features, the Doris & Colvin Colossal Shows will exhibit a great Three-ring Circus, World's Menagerie, Grand Museum, and Elevated Theatre Stage, and Great Roman Hippodrome.

King Mwanga, of Uganda, an African potentate of eighteen summers and no winters, has eclipsed the glory of Solomon in the matter of wives, the former's list running up to a round 1,000. Fortunately they require no sealskin cloaks, bustles or spring bonnets.—Louisville Times.

Judge Jno. E. Halsey, of Bowling Green, having lost his grip in the Third District, has moved to Wellington, Kansas, to make his future home. Perhaps if he had moved a year ago the district lately represented by him would not have elected a Republican Congressman.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellow-men. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming the paper, W. A. ROYDS, 149 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y.

Six counties held primary convention Saturday. Nicholas, Fleming and Mason instructed for Harris and Christian for Buckner. The others were not heard from up to yesterday. Mason, one of the doubtful counties in the Attorney General's race, went for Hardin. All of the counties will hold their conventions or mass meetings next Saturday.

The Rahway murdered girl was buried the other day, having never been identified and her death is still an unsolved mystery.

A CIRCULAR LETTER.

HOPKINSVILLE, KY., MAR. 1st, '87.

My Dear Sir:—In addressing this circular letter, I desire to announce both to the Public and to the Medical Profession, that I am prepared to treat after the most approved and scientific methods, all diseases of the Genito Urinary System, as Cystitis, Stricture, Enlargement of Prostate Gland, Urinary Calculi, Varicocele, Gonorrhea and Syphilis, in its various stages. Skin, Tongue and Throat affections resulting therefrom; diseases incident to female life, of whatever name or character, both medical and surgical; diseases of the Rectum and Anus, as Hemorrhoids, Fissure, Fistula, etc. Acute and Chronic Diseases of the Nervous System, as Chorea, Hysteria, Convulsions, Epilepsy, Paralysis, Impotence, Insomnia, etc. Diseases of the Joints, as Gout, Rheumatism, Syphilis, as well as those of the Ankle and Knee Joint, Club Foot in its various forms, Contracted Tendons, and all deformities resulting from diseases of the Spinal Column, Curvature and Pott's Disease; Diseases of the Eye, both medical and surgical, as Granulated lids, Conjunctivitis, Strabismus, and Cataract; Diseases of Lymphatic Glands, as Scrofula, Ulcers, Sores and Varicose Veins; Diseases of the Respiratory Tract, as Asthma and Nasal Catarrh. The operations for Hernia, Lithotomy, Ovariectomy, Resections of Joints and the opening of the large cavities of the body, will be done upon strictly antiseptic principles, and after the most approved method of the World's Surgeons.

An experience of 27 years in the fields of Medicine and Surgery practiced successfully in the states of Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Arkansas, I affirm that these Maladies can be as successfully treated by me as by anyone, and patients committing themselves to my care will meet with kind and prompt attention and fair dealing. In conclusion I give me pleasure to state that I was a Surgeon in the C. S. Army, and Late Professor of Anatomy, Physiology and Diseases of the Nervous System in the Memphis Hospital Medical College, and that I have done more surgery, and more successful surgery, than any surgeon in Southern Kentucky, including successful operations for Stone in the bladder, Ovariectomy, Tracheotomy, etc. A correspondence is solicited. I am very truly yours,
W. M. FUGUA, M. D.
